ALGER VS. SHERMAN.

The General Makes a Kind and Dignified Defense.

CONVENTION HISTORY RETOLD.

Letter From Old Tecumseh Is Produced, Together With an Analysis of the Vote of Southern Delegates to the Convention of 1888—What the "Recollections" Have Brought Forth.

DETROIT. Nov. 22.—General R. A. Alger has written a lengthy letter to the Detroit Tribune in reply to Senator John Sherman's charges against the general's friends as contained in the second volume of Sherman's Recollections.

The writer quotes Senator Sherman's language in which Sherman, in referring to the circumstances attending the contest in the Republican national convention of 1888 wrote, "I believe and had, as I thought, conclusive proof that the friend of General Alger substantially purchased the votes of many of the delegates from the southern states who had been instructed by their conventions to vote for me."

He also quotes Senator Sherman's assertion to the effect that although he had learned with complaisance of the explanations of the wavering of the Ohio and New York delegation from his (Sherman's) support, that "the only feeling of resentment I entertained was in regard to the action of the friends of General Alger in tempting with money poor negroes to violate the instructions of their constituents."

In reply to these quotations General Alger says that he should not have intruded this matter upon the public were it not for the fact that it appeared that Senator Sherman had gone out of the way to insult his (Alger's) friends as well as himself. "What he writes," says Alger, "would be less objectionable were it not that the second word in the first paragraph is written in the present tense."

General Alger says that when the senator's charges were first made, immediately after the convention, he was especially distressed because of the warm friendship existing between himself and family and General W. T. Sherman and family. In view of this he wrote General Sherman, assuring him that there was no foundation for the charges and that he had not replied to them on account, first of the age of the senator; second, of his great name, and third, because of the injury such talk would do the party.

General Sherman in reply wrote:

I assure you that I entertain for you the same sentiment of respect and affection as always. If anything ever shook my faith in you it was that you stooped to the level of a politician. A soldier of repute, a gentleman, and one who has such a family and business as General Alger ought to hold himself above that level. But this is evidently a free country, and you had as good a right to enter the race as had John Sherman. You made a good show of votes, and if you bought some, according to universal usage, surely I don't blame you. I laughed at John for trying to throw off on anybody. He was fairly beaten at the convention and I congratulated him on his escape. I frankly answer your inquiry by saying that my friend-hip to you has not been shaken in the least; that I wish you all honor and happiness, and that during my short remainder we may often meet here or on the Pacific. With great respect, etc.,

W. T. SHERMAN.

P. S.—Best love to the family.

Continuing, General Alger says that during the excitement of '88 he paid little attention to the reports in question as nothing had appeared over Senator Sherman's name, but that now the case is different. He then gave an analysis of the southern votes received by Sherman and himself at the Chicago convention. According to this showing Senator Sherman on the fifth ballot (the one in which Alger received the highest number of votes) received 109 votes from southern states, against Alger's 60, not including, however, 28 votes from Arkansas and Missouri which came voluntarily pledged to Alger under the leadership respectively of General Powell Clayton and Hon. Chauncey I. Filley. On the other 60 General Alger writes that more than half of them "had served either in the Union or southern armies during the war, and it was not unnatural that they should prefer a soldier to a civilian. Many of these people I knew personally."

The general mentions a list of soldiers and other friends of his among these delegates whom he concludes naturally used their utmost endeavors with their respective delegates in his behalf, and adds: "No delegate or friend who went to Chicago in my behalf or voted for me at the convention ever asked for, or received, a single pledge from me for money or any office."

General Alger relates instances of the friendship between himself and the senator of late years and of assurances given him by Sherman that while his disappointment had been great, he did not believe that Alger had any part in the scramble for votes, etc., in '88. Alger also quotes an autograph letter written him by Senator Sherman in 1892, in which the latter reasserts, "I cherish no prejudice or unkindness for the incident of the national convention of 1888."

"In conclusion," writes General Alger, "I will only add that if Senator Sherman is willing to leave a record made up largely of adverse criticisms of the public men of his day, many of whom have passed from earth, he is welcome to the task. I am sure he stands alone among our public men, who would be willing, by his own act, to blight the honorable record of the living and the dead."

A letter from James Lewis, colored, of New Orleans, is appended, stating that the writer voted for Alger in the '88 convention as second choice to Sherman and denying that negro delegates were in the habit of selling their votes

DISCUSSED IN GOTHAM.

Manley Says Sherman's Memory Is Sadly at Fault.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Senator Sherman of Ohio left this city for Washington yesterday.

There was considerable talk among the politicians gathered at the Fifth Avenue hotel concerning the senator's statements in his book regarding the attitude of the New York delegation at the convention of 1888.

Ex-Senator Hiscock said: "There was no agreement to support Sherman that I recollect. At the dinner, of which so much has been said, Fassett spoke advising that the policy of the delegation be referred to Miller, Platt, Depew and myself. We were to determine the course the delegation should pursue in the balloting next day. It was at my suggestion that we agreed to stand by Harrison until it seemed impossible to nominate him, and after we were to swing to Sherman. Mr. Platt opposed the Sherman swing because he thought he could not be elected, but he yielded in the interest of harmony. O'Brien and Lawson of New York and Laughlin of Buffalo were the only ones who declined to take this course, but their opposition was ineffective on account of the unit vote by which we were bound."

"Sherman's memory is decidedly at fault in several of his statements," Mr. Manley of Maine said. "Harrison carried Indiana by a little over 2,000 in '88. It was always a doubtful state. No Republican could have carried it in 1892."

State Senators Joseph Mullin and Frank W. Higgins were both delegates to the convention of '88. They state that there was no Sherman sentiment in the delegation outside of Senator Miller. They did not notice any acts or facts that looked toward developing such a sentiment. On the contrary, there was a strong Harrison sentiment. This was reinforced in the case of both delegates by telegrams from influential constituents imploring them to throw their votes and influence to Harrison. It was in obedience to these recommendations that they did go to Harrison on Monday.

Ex-President Harrison is still holding his daily levees in his room in the Fifth Avenue. Ex-Secretary Noble, Cornelius N. Bliss and ex-Minister Emory Smith of Philadelphia were the most conspicuous of his many callers.

General Harrison hopes to finish his visit by today, when he will take a train for Saratoga, where he hopes to spend a day or two with "Little Ben" McKee, who is now fully recovered from his recent illness.

BUTCHERED BY SPANIARDS.

Women and Children Ruthlessly Killed by Melino's Soldiers.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 22.—Colonel Fernando Figuer Edó, the Cuban leader of this city, is in receipt of a letter from Havana, giving details of atrocities which were committed by Spaniards in Matanzas' province. Colonel Melino, who commands a Spanish regiment, recently encountered the advance guard of Gomez's army in Matanzas and was defeated. While soldiers under Melino were in retreat met a group of women and children. As the soldiers passed one of the women made a sneering remark about the Spaniards.

The remark was overheard by the soldiers, and so enraged them that they fell upon the women and children and butchered every one of them. There were 10 women and about a dozen children in the group. The letter says that the Spaniards after shooting down their victims, stabbed them with bayonets, inflicting the most horrible wounds. One baby was killed at its mother's breast, and the bullet that passed through the infant also passed through the mother.

Colonel Melino made no report of the butchery, but it happened that two of the women murdered were wives of Spaniards engaged in the sawmill business in Matanzas. When the husbands learned how their loved ones had been slaughtered they wrote to Martinez de Campos, informing him of the horrible affair and demanding that Colonel Melino be punished. It is said that De Campos has ordered that Melino be court-martialed, and it is thought the butcher will be sentenced to death, as the massacre is condemned as bitterly by Spaniards as by Cubans.

A Rockefeller Married.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Miss Elsie Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, was married at 3:30 Thursday afternoon to William G. Rockefeller, the son of William G. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil magnate. The ceremony was at St. Bartholomew's church, New York, and Bishop Potter officiated. Assisted by the rector, Dr. David H. Greer. In comparison with the recent weddings in the Vanderbilt and Whitney families this was rather unostentatious and less distinctively an event for fashionable society. The church decorations were not elaborate, though rich.

JOURNALIST SELECTED.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—John L. Peak, the newly appointed minister to Switzerland, has, according to a local paper, practically decided to make William R. Hereford, a New York newspaper man, formerly of Kansas City his private secretary.

GIRLS' CLOSE ESCAPE.

Fire Element Plays Havoc in Chicago.

CAUSED BY A DUST EXPLOSION.

Thirteen Valuable Manufacturing Establishments Go Up in Flames in the Windy City Three Elevators and a Stairway Enable Four Hundred Women to Escape. Total Loss.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Excelsior building at Canal and Jackson streets and an 8-story brick structure immediately adjoining it, at 171 to 173 South Canal street, were completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. Not less than 13 valuable manufacturing plants located in the two buildings were lost, including the Shober-Carqueville Lithographing company, the Charles Emmerich Feather company and the large establishment of Strauss, Eisendrath & Drom. The total loss is not less than $620,000.

The fire was a hard one to subdue and attended with no little danger. The escape of several hundred girls from the Strauss, Eisendrath & Drom factory was made possible by coolness and decision. A number of the girls suffered from fright and sustained slight bruises. Before the fight with the fire was ended, Fire Chief Sweenie had exhausted the regular calls for engines and had to specially summon 20 more.

An approximate list of the losses is: Excelsior building, 7-story brick, corner Canal and Jackson streets; owned by Warren Springer. Total loss, $150,000.

Shober and Carqueville Lithographing company, $125,000.

Charles Emmerich company, feathers, $100,000; George E. Lloyd & Company, bicycles and stereotyping, $50,000; Schnadig Brothers & Company, shoes, $20,000; H. E. Puffer & Company, felt hats, $10,000; Strauss, Eisendrath & Drom, ladies' waists, $40,000. Several smaller concerns lost an aggregate of $15,000.

The 8-story building, 171 to 173 South Canal street, owned by Warren Springer; total loss, $75,000. A. J. Herbst & Company, typewriter, carbons and ribbons, $200,000. An aggregate loss of $18,000 was sustained by the smaller concerns in this building.

Four-story brick building, 165 to 169 South Canal street, owned by V. J. Wilson, damaged by water and falling walls to the extent of $6,000. The tenants of this building sustained an aggregate loss of $11,000, the heaviest loser being the Huesner Baking company which suffered to the extent of $2,000. The fire started by a dust explosion in the renovating room of Charles Emmerich & Company, on the fourth floor of the Excelsior building and spread so rapidly that the workmen in that part of the establishment had barely time to give the alarm and get to the street in safety.

By the time the first fire engine arrived, the fire was raging furiously on the fifth, sixth and seventh floors. On the sixth floor, a serious loss of life was narrowly averted.

Strauss, Eisendrath & Drom, makers of shirt waists, employed 400 girls, and none of them were aware of the fire until it had made considerable headway and the smoke came pouring into their working room in thick clouds. A wild rush was made for the three elevators, which were kept running to the last possible minute, and while many of the girls escaped in this way, others took to the stairs.

When the main floor was reached, the jam became frightful and bat for the efforts of Officers Brennan and Maloney of the Des Plaines Street station who managed to keep the mass of frightened girls moving and in some instances, by force prevented them from crowding too violently, many lives must have been lost. Several of the girls fainted, but soon survived when taken to the open air. The firemen made desperate efforts to confine the flames to the Excelsior building, but they were unsuccessful and the adjoining building, also owned by Warren Springer, was soon ablaze.

As the other building had burned so this one went, the run of the flames being so rapid that nothing could stop them. The Wilson building, as well as others in the immediate neighborhood, caught several times, but the flames were quickly extinguished.

Nearly all the losses are covered by insurance. Springer was fully protected, as were all the other heavy losers.

LYNCHED AN INNOCENT MAN.

Horrible Mistake of a Frenzied Mob in Texas.

BRYAN, Tex., Nov. 22.—Rev. J. E. Horne of Madison county yesterday brought news of the lynching of a negro in a remote part of that county last Tuesday night. He was accused of riding a horse over a little white girl in the road, inflicting serious injuries on her. Later developments go to show that the mob got hold of the wrong negro and the guilty one has made his escape.

Will Be Brought Back.

HAMILTON, Ont., Nov. 22.—Judge Snider has granted the application for the extradition of Sidney Slocum, wanted in Peoria, Ills., for the attempted murder of Peter Hansen.

Note the Name of Their Home.

NORTON, Va., Nov. 22.—Cecil Heart, aged 15, and Miss Juliet Horret, 18, were married here yesterday by Justice Brewer, the youngest couple ever married in Wise county.

DEBS FREE AGAIN.

He Is Now a Martyr and Will Soon Take the Lecture Platform.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Eugene V. Debs became a free man again at 12 o'clock midnight. His term of six months' imprisonment in the Woodstock jail came to an end while he snored blissfully in his cell. In no degree changed in his convictions, in no wise repentant of his attitude in times past, and with the same opinion that the federal courts have yet to learn how to administer justice, Mr. Debs finishes his sentence in about the same condition, both mentally and physically, as when Sheriff Eckert took him in charge 183 days ago. He is the same earnest and magnetic champion of organized labor as in days gone by, his genial disposition not having suffered in the least by his enforced confinement.

He explained all this last night while sitting in the sheriff's office at Woodstock by saying:

"I have been sustained by the consciousness that I was paying the penalty for doing what I conceived to be my duty."

Had Mr. Debs so chosen he could have walked out of the jail at midnight, but he was satisfied with the comfort of his quarters, and preferred to remain a prisoner until morning.

A party of 300 admirers and friends will go to Woodstock this afternoon to greet the labor leader upon his release. A party composed of representatives of all the Central labor bodies and of the several local unions will be among those to first greet Mr. Debs. Mr. Debs will receive them at the jail and will then march around the public square with the party to the music of a brass band and drum corps. Coffee and sandwiches will be served to the visitors in the restaurants of the town just before boarding the train again.

A delegation of the trades assembly of Cincinnati will come in over the Big Four and another from the American Railway union of Cleveland will arrive over the Nickel Plate this morning to take part in the general jubilee which will be held in Battery D in the evening.

Mr. Debs has already laid plans that will keep him very much before the public. He said last night that he had arranged to visit all the principal cities in the country, primarily in the interests of the American Railway union but combining his efforts also to bring organized labor into a defensive alliance.

NAVAL PREPARATIONS.

Secretary Herbert Pressing Vigorously the Work of Defense.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Secretary Herbert is pressing vigorously the preparations of plans for the defense of the United States against possible attack by any foreign naval power. Already much has been done by the naval war college in that line during the session just closed under the secretary's direction, and the program for the next session, which begins June 1 next, at Newport, and runs till the 1st of October, just published, shows that the work is to be carried forward without interruption.

The principal problem will be the conduct of naval operations in the Gulf of Mexico by an American naval fleet and other work will be the construction of a war chart and defense plan of Nantucket sounds and the general strategic consideration of Delaware and Chesapeake bays.

Twenty-five officers, 22 of whom will be above the grade of Lieutenant, will constitute the next class and of these five will be selected to continue the work during the winter and prepare the plans for the ensuing year.

APPEAL TO CHRISTIANS.

The Distress in Armenia Calls for the Active Charity of All.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The civilized and Christain world is horror-stricken over the reports of the massacres of Armenian Christians by the Turks. In addition to the destruction of life, whole villages have been burned, all the property belonging to the Armenians has been destroyed or confiscated, and the survivors, mostly men and women, have been left to starve. The distress is so widespread and the number in actual need of even a crust of bread so large, that relief agencies have been established in London and New York, and an appeal is made to the Christain world for aid.

The New York committee is made up of men like Bishop Potter, Archbishop Corrigan, Morris K. Jesup, Rev. W. H. Faunce, Jacob H. Schiff and Rev. David T. Burrell. Spencer Trask, 27 Pine street, New York, is the treasurer; and contributions forwarded to him will be distributed among the Armenian sufferers through a mixed commission of American missionaries, English consuls and others.

BOYS BURIED.

Two Killed and Two Injured While Digging a Cave in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 22.—Six boys who were digging a cave at Twenty-eighth and Grayson street, last evening, were buried by a cave-in of the bank. Two were dead when reached, two others were badly injured and two escaped unharmed. The dead are:

Howard Ramage.

Louis Snow.

The injured: Will Ramage, legs broken; Walter Gambel, arm broken. Otto Brood and Fred Baker escaped injury. The boys had been at work several days in a steep embankment in Grayson street, and were just completing their playhouse when the earth gave way, burying all of them.

The at-tenting weather, followed by snow, easterly winds; much colder Friday night with a cold wave.

It is reported and generally understood at Frankfort that Walter Forrester, managing editor of the Louisville Commercial, will be appointed Insurance Commissioner by Governor Bradley and Auditor Store. The Auditor, if we mistake not, apprises the Insurance Commissioner, but if Boss Bradley wants to name the man he'll do it, you bet.

ENVIOUS "CASH" CLAY thrust his poisoned knife into the vitals of a party at whose feet he has ever been a beggar for office. Cold, grasping and revengeful he dealt a blow in the dark that has brought upon him the contumely of every honest Democrat. The passing of Hardin only emphasizes the elimination of Cash Clay as a political factor in this Commonwealth.—Louisville Critic.

The increased Democratic majority in Bourbon in the face of Clay's opposition shows how the Democrats of that county regard him. Clay's career as a Democrat is at an end.

No Concert To-night.

There will be no concert at the Christian Church to-night. The following explains things:

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Geo. F. Cade, Maysville, Ky. Sorry: Linde too ill to sing. Must cancel. H. M. HIRSCHBERG.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail. He can not eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps, a little heaviness in the stomach, a little sourness, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison is being reabsorbed into the blood and the whole body. Impurity in the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

Send 21 cents in one cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page Common Sense Medical Adviser, illustrated.

The Senator From Mason.

[Louisville Post.]

Mr. J. D. Rummans is the Senator elect from the district composed of Mason and Lewis counties, and he is a hustler, too. He ran like a race horse, both before the nominating convention and before the people in the recent unpleasantries. Mr. Rummans is a Republican of the John Sherman stripe, and believes in going in to win no matter what the prize may be. He defeated Editor Davis of the Maysville Ledger for the nomination after a very hot fight, and got off the nominating stage in a run. He is already in Frankfort, and will soon be acquainted with his new duties. He is a very popular man at home, and will make friends among his colleagues in the Assembly halls.

LARKIN J. PROCTER.

A Former Resident of Maysville Dies at Glasgow—An Uncle of John R. Procter.

Larkin J. Procter, who was at one time a resident of Maysville, died November 19th at his home, Procter's Cave, in Edmonson County. He was seventy-four years of age and a brother of the late Maj. George M. Procter, who was the father of the Hon. John R. Procter, President of the United States Civil Service Commission, and came of a family noted for longevity.

Colonel Larkin J. Procter was born in Bracken County, and began life as a store boy in the mercantile house of his brother George, at Maysville, when only fourteen years old. He procured law books, and when not engaged at work studied law and was admitted to the bar at the age of nineteen years. In 1840, when but nineteen years of age, being a Whig in politics, he stumped the Eastern part of the State for Harrison for President. He moved to Lewis County, and in 1845 was elected to represent that county in the Legislature.

In 1848, when in his twenty-seventh year, he was elected as a delegate from Lewis County to the Constitutional convention. He was the youngest member of that convention, but won a reputation in debate with such men as James Guthrie, Archibald Dixon, Ben Hardin and others. He was the last surviving member of that body. In 1853 Colonel Procter moved to Philadelphia, but remained there but three years. Upon his return to Kentucky in 1856 he leased the Mammoth Cave and kept it until 1861. That year he was elected to the Legislature to represent Edmonson County. Although an opponent of secession, his sympathies were with the people of the South. At the close of the war he again leased the Mammoth Cave and kept it and ran the hotel there until 1871, since which time he was engaged in practicing law. He was the owner of the well-known Grand Avenue Cave and made his home there until he sold it a few years ago. Since then he has lived at his hotel, which he erected at Procter's Cave.

Colonel Procter was married twice, first to Miss Mary E. Roberts, of Clarksburg, Lewis County, Ky., who died ten years ago, and the second time to Miss Jennie Fernoy, of New Cumberland, W. Va. Of six children by his first wife, only one, Dr. D. L. Procter, of Mt. Sterling, is living. He had no children by his second wife.

REPUBLICANS FILL THE OFFICES.

Eight-Tenths of 'Em at Least, Although This is Supposed to be a Democratic Administration.

[Courier-Journal Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 19.—Notwithstanding this is supposed to be a Democratic Administration, still the Republican party have eight-tenths of all the best offices here at Washington. This remarkable fact has been ascertained since the election by several bright Democrats in each of the departments making a canvass of their respective departments and then comparing notes. They find that in several large bureaus there is not a Democrat employed. In the Postoffice Department with three exceptions all the good soft berths are held by Republicans. The same condition prevails in the War, State and Navy Departments. In the Treasury and Interior Departments, Democrats have a better showing though even in these departments seven out of ten of the employees are Republicans. The disbursing office of the Treasury, as well as the internal revenue division, is still in the hands of the Republicans. The names of all the employees with their salaries and politics are to be printed, and it will no doubt create much surprise among the boys in the trenches.

FIRE AT ABERDEEN.

A Frame Cottage Belonging to Thos. Fristoe Burned Last Evening.

A one-story frame cottage at Aberdeen belonging to Mr. Thomas Fristoe was destroyed by fire about 5 o'clock last evening.

The building was occupied by Jerry Bruce, colored. His wife built a fire in a coal and then went after some water. When she returned she found the room in a blaze. Some of the wood had fallen out of the grate and started the fire; at least that is the supposition.

The bucket brigade turned out and succeeded in confining the flames to the one building. Mr. Lawrence Slitz's dwelling adjoining was in danger but was saved.

The damage by the fire will not exceed $500. There was no insurance.

LICENSES.

That On Saloons Fixed at $300 a Year, Same as at Present.

City Attorney's Salary and Term of Office—Other Matters—Council Doings.

All members of the City Council were present at the adjourned meeting last evening except Mr. Piper. Mayor Cox presided.

The meeting was for the purpose of considering the license ordinance introduced at the previous meeting.

The ordinance was read for the second time. It makes about fifteen pages of legal cap, type written, fixes the license on various lines of business, and specifies penalties for failure to comply with its provisions, or for violations thereof.

Among its provisions are the following: All licenses expire December 31st of year issue. If issued after January 1st, payment shall be made only for the time license runs. No license shall give the licensee authority to carry on business on Sunday. All licenses are to be issued by the Mayor. The amount of the license tax must first be paid to the Treasurer. Auctioneers' license, liquor license, billiard and pool license, ten-pin alley license are to be issued only on authority of City Council.

The only section to which there was any opposition was that fixing liquor licenses. The ordinance as read provided for the following on this subject: Wholesale liquor license, $50 a year; agency for wholesaling liquors, $50; barroom license, $500; druggists' license, $50. Merchants' retail license, $200.

Mr. Ficklin moved that the barroom license be fixed at $300 instead of $500. The motion was seconded by Mr. Blatterman. Mr. Lane opposed the reduction and thought a license of $500 would be to the best interests of the city, from a financial as well as a moral standpoint. Mr. Ficklin advocated the reduction, and thought it was but justice to the liquor dealers. He stated that last year the revenue from liquor licences was over $8,000, about one-fifth of the city's entire revenue. Mr. Lane thought the city could get more revenue if the license were placed at $500, and that the city would get rid of some of the low "doggeries." The vote resulted:

Yeas—Blatterman, Crowell, Frank, Newell, Pearce, Dressel, Ficklin.

Noes—Ball, Bierbower, Keith, Lane.

And the barroom license was fixed at $300.

The merchants liquor license was then reduced from $200 to $150.

No license shall be granted for the sale of liquor within 200 feet of a church or school.

The license to sell brass knucks, slung-shots, dirk and bowie knives was on motion of Mr. Blatterman raised from $5 to $50 a year.

A motion to raise the license to sell cigarettes from $20 to $50 was lost.

After considering the ordinance section by section, it was finally passed as a whole by a unanimous vote, with the exception that Mr. Lane voted against any liquor license at all.

A permit was granted John Zweigart to rebuild his frame stable lately burned.

An ordinance fixing the time of electing the officers to be chosen by City Council and the time when they shall enter upon their duties was presented and read. The officers are to be elected at the regular meeting in December each year and their term begins on first Monday in January. The rules were suspended and the ordinance was adopted.

An ordinance was also passed fixing the time of electing a City Attorney and also fixing his salary. He shall be elected by Council at the regular December meeting in 1895, and every two years thereafter. His term begins the first Monday in January. The salary was fixed at $400 a year with 20 per cent. of the fines and forfeitures assessed in Police Court where he appears and prosecutes. But he is to receive no per cent. where the fines are worked out. The rules were suspended and ordinance passed.

Ordinances were presented and read providing for the election and term of office of a Public Weigher, Wharfmaster and regulating control and management of the alms house and pest house. Also an ordinance regulating the giving of alms. These ordinances were given their first reading and went over till next meeting.

Council then adjourned till next Monday night when these last ordinances and the penal ordinance are to be considered and passed upon. The latter ordinance is longer than the license ordinance. There are forty sections in the license ordinance and about 100 in the penal ordinance.

A SPECIAL from Frankfort says it is understood that the successor to Adjutant-General A. J. Gross has been settled upon by Governor-elect Bradley. The lucky man is Colonel Dan Collier, who is said to be a distant relative of Colonel Bradley. The place pays $2,000 a year. Other applicants mentioned for the place included Major E. E. Helburn, of Middlesboro, Major S. R. Crumbaugh, of Hopkinsville, and Captain J. C. Bryant, of Ashland.

THE Germantown correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle says: "It is not generally known that two miles from town, on the Germantown and Maysville pike, on the Mrs. Sarah Savage farm, that there is a cave, which up to this time has only been explored forty or fifty feet. The entrance is about four feet wide and four or five deep, which makes it difficult to explore, but we are reliably informed that it widens out the farther one penetrates the cave. Some few relics have been found, and it might pay some party to make an investigating tour."

Nicholson Law Violated in Northern Indiana.

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 22.—The trials of the Lake county saloonkeepers for alleged violations of the Nicholson law were begun in the Lake circuit court at Crown Point yesterday, and the results of these trials are looked forward to with interest both by the saloon men and the temperance people. The fight was begun at the last session of the court, when a vigorous effort was made by the temperance people to have the saloon men indicted. Nearly 500 witnesses were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, but as that body had only two weeks in which to complete its investigations, a great many of these witnesses did not have a chance to testify.

As it is, 137 indictments were returned, but had the grand jury been given a longer time for investigation there is no doubt that that number would have been increased to at least 200. The temperance people were well organized for the fight and went about it in a systematic way.

TORN FROM HIS BODY

Were Both Arms and the Man Will Die.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 22.—Charles Warren lost both arms in a corn husking at Shammondale yesterday. They were torn from his body and he will die.

Explorer Drowned.

SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Nov. 22.—News has just reached here that Carl Strelmann, the renowned South African explorer, was drowned Aug. 28. For 10 years he had been the agent of Tomlinson & Company of Liverpool, England, in the South African trade, and for several years special correspondent of the New York Herald from the countries of Africa explored by him.

Muncie Firemen Seriously Accused.

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 22.—The preliminary trial of James Shepp, Ollie Hall and Thomas Duffy, of fire station No. 2, charged with stealing chickens, encouraging the boys to steal household goods at fires and selling grain belonging to the city, began before Mayor Cromer. It is attracting great interest. The accused firemen pleaded not guilty.

Married Her Rescuer.

LOGANSFORT, Ind., Nov. 22.—Joseph Kales, a leading merchant of this city, was married at Madison, Wis., yesterday to Miss Effie Comstock. Mr. Kales rescued the young lady last summer as she was about to be swept over Niagara Falls, and the match is the result of that romantic meeting.

FORT WAYNE, Nov. 22.—Diphtheria is epidemic at Maysville, this county. Schools have been closed, church meeting, abandoned and the village quarantined. The contagion was generally prevalent before the cases were properly diagnosed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The body of Calvert Vaux, the landscape gardener who disappeared from the home of his son at Bensonhurst, Tuesday night, was found in the bay near that place. Mr. Vaux had been suffering for some time from nervous prostration.

TO SMYRNA

The Cruiser Minneapolis Is Sent to Protect American Missionaries.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The announcement that the United States cruiser Minneapolis has been ordered to Smyrna is taken by the American board as an indication that the United States intends to furnish ample protection to Americans in western Turkey, among whom are many missionaries of the board.

As a station for missionary work Smyrna has been prominent from the earliest times. The interest attending the place is being the home of Polycarp, and the only remaining one of the seven churches addressed by the Apostle John, rendered it a satisfactory mission station, but it was even more probably due to the fact that at the commencement of the present century it was the only city of Turkey that was really open to missionaries, and also the only one with which there was direct communication from European and American seaports, that led to its choice as a mission center.

For the Farmer.

COL. J. W. Caperton, of Madison County, sold forty fine feeding cattle, reds and dehorned, averaging 1,100 pounds, at $3 cents.

Shredded fodder is selling at $10 a ton, baled, in Clark County. It is claimed that it is better than hay for horses and cattle.

A swine breeder says that he has found clover for young growing hogs worth as much as corn, acre for acre, and that a good acre of clover will make 600 pounds of pork.

Farmers' Home Journal: "There is not much profit in keeping hogs till they are rolling in fat, as used to be the common practice. The pork is not as good as that of hogs that have been kept thrifly growing and have less inside fat. What is more, such pork is now more saleable in all markets than is the heavy-weight pork that was formerly most in demand. The use of cotton seed oil in place of lard is probably better for the health of the community than any other of the substitutes for farmers' products. It makes it for the interest of farmers to grow pork with a greater proportion of lean. Such pork being more healthful will lead to a larger demand for it."
